DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to because there is foreign writing on the figures. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.
2. Figure 22 and 23 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.
3. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(4) because reference character "32" has been used to designate both n-type semiconductor layer and yellow light. See page 13, line 8, and page 14, line 18. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or

Art Unit: 2815

(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

5. Claims 1 thru 7, 9 thru 14 and 16 thru 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hide et al. '393. Hide discloses (see, for example, FIG. 6) an LED device comprising a Group III nitride layer (light emitting diode element) 12, support (base) 14, enclosure (resin) 26, and photoluminescent polymer film (fluorescent material containing layer) 34. A reflector dish 16 houses the LED device and reflects any emitted light in a desired direction (through a convex lens 28).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hide et al. '393. Hide does not disclose said fluorescent material being an yttrium compound. However, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to use yttrium, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use (to obtain fluorescence) as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

8. Claims 15 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hide et al. '393 as applied to claims 1 thru 7, 9 thru 14 and 16 thru 24 above, and further in view of

Art Unit: 2815

Shimizu et al. '440. Hide does not disclose a pair of electrodes arranged on said base; and said electrodes being surface-mounted directly to printed wires on a motherboard. However, Shimizu discloses a light emitting device comprising an arrangement wherein a p electrode and n electrode is connected to metal terminals 205 on a base through conductive wires 203. See column 8, lines 56-*. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to have the same arrangement as Shimizu in order to effectively communicate with a LED within a compact package.
